Subject: RE: Advisory Opinion 2023-11 additional Commissioner's question

Good afternoon,

Please see below for my client's response to the Commissioner's questions.

Thank you,
Bill

VoteDown PAC does plan to solicit contributions via means other than its website, and if it does it will include information about the process for determining the Leading Opponent and the ultimate distribution of the earmarked contribution. Such information will either appear within the solicitation itself or be available via a clear link to that information. All solicitations will also include applicable FEC disclaimers.

After VoteDown PAC receives a final Advisory Opinion from the Commission, it will update its "Help" and "FAQs" sections on its website with this information, which is currently available at www.votedown.org/TermsConditions.

Subject: [External] Advisory Opinion 2023-11 dadditional Commissioner's question

All –

Good morning. Thank you for your expeditious response to the Commissioner’s previous inquiry; it is greatly appreciated. A Commissioner has asked us to contact you with the following additional question regarding your Advisory Opinion request:

In your request, the Requestor proposes making information about the conduit contributions available to contributors “via the VoteDown donation page and via its Terms & Conditions.” Advisory Opinion Request at AOR004. Will there be any other solicitations for conduit contributions, and will the Requestor disclose the information in all solicitations for conduit contributions? Will the Requestor include this information on its “Help” webpage, where the Requestor provides responses to Frequently Asked Questions about contributions it collects?

Please note that, like your response to the questions posed yesterday, your response may be considered a supplement to your advisory opinion request. Thanks in advance for your attention to this matter.

Best regards,
~ Isaac
